Weighting:

Please add any other variables needed to weigh the data in your region and correct any imbalances in your data by weighting before sending it, so that you provide a representative sample of the population (or a representative sample of the stated universe, if this is not a total population sample).

Each individual respondent's weight needs to be written onto columns 71-81 of the record. The first 5 columns (71-75) will refer to the whole number (including leading zeros). Column 76 contains the decimal. Finally columns 77-81 must contain the decimal places (including zeros).
