

DIGNITY IN DETENTION

Women in detention must have access to all services without discrimination. Their specific needs – in terms of security and health, for example – must be taken into account, as must their specific responsibilities, such as caring for children.